He's not afraid to be controversial, and he is well-versed in politics. But his attempts to laugh over Donald Trump's numerous scandals and failures end up oddly tired and dull. Noah promised to defend his beloved Democrats while hosting the White House Correspondents' Dinner on Saturday. He spent the first few minutes talking about a bunch of sensational news headlines and then, in his typical comedic fashion, he picked apart the president's failures. He started off telling a joke about first lady Melania Trump, referring to her as a "former nude model." The crowd laughed and laughed, but most of the audience's laughter was fake. It didn't hit home, and y
